Caffeine a central nervous system stimulant/thermogenic that increases alertness, endurance, and pain-threshold-performance.

Evodiamine a powerful, thermogenic, adrenal stimulant extract found in the Evodiae Fructus plant.

Ginkgo Biloba Leaf clinically shown to support healthy brain and memory function by enhancing oxygenation and maintaining healthy heart and blood circulation.

Glucuronolactone a stimulating, stress fighting, glucose metabolite that increases energy, concentration and performance.

Green Tea increases thermogenesis, lipolysis (fat release) and oxidation (metabolism). Maximizes catecholamines by inhibiting the COMT enzyme.

Higenamine is an incredible effective and efficient fat burner. A study in the Journal of Japanese Pharmacology found higenamine to be a potent beta adrenoceptor agonist. A second study showed that higenamine stimulates beta-1 adrenoceptors and beta-2 receptors in the body.

Hordenine a CNS stimulant, chemically similar to tyramine, that increases energy and thermogenesis by increasing noradrenaline release.

TeaCrine® inhibits adenosine, which decreases feelings of fatigue for longer, stronger workouts. Supports positive mood and heightened motivation to exercise.

Tyrosine the precursor to adrenaline-like Fight or flight catecholamines, dopamine and norepinephrine (noradrenaline). Tyrosine increases the effectiveness of stimulants by keeping catecholamine levels high.
